Best review month on record. Guests are talking about the new patio and the tiramisu, and three servers are getting named praise. Two fixable issues are costing you stars: weekend wait-time communication and the noise level in the back room.

WHAT IS WORKING

The patio is your summer story

31 of 87 reviews mention the patio, and 29 of them are five stars. Guests use words like 'string lights', 'quiet', and 'felt like Italy'.

Tiramisu is the most-named dish, again

Mentioned 24 times, never negatively. It is your signature by popular vote.

Service is warm and personal

42 reviews praise service. The pattern is servers remembering names, checking on the table without hovering, and helping with wine picks.

WHAT IS COSTING YOU STARS

Weekend waits feel longer than they are HIGH

Fix: Quote 10 minutes longer than you expect on weekends, and send a text when the table is ready so guests can walk the block.

Back room noise MEDIUM

Fix: Acoustic panels on the back-room ceiling, or a slightly lower music level after 7:30 pm.

Chicken parm portion inconsistency LOW

Fix: Re-weigh the cutlet spec with the kitchen and confirm on both shifts.

THIS MONTH, DO THESE

Fix the weekend wait-time quote. It is the single biggest drag on your rating and it costs nothing.

Put the patio in your Google Business Profile photos and description this week. Guests are already selling it for you.

Reply to the 4 negative reviews with a specific fix. Replies were read by other guests: 2 reviews this month mention that you 'clearly listen'.

Tell Marco, Dani and Priya they were named. Named praise is the cheapest retention tool you have.

Test acoustic treatment in the back room before the holiday party season.
